IMMERSE YOURSELF AT BETH EL!

IDENTITY

As adults, we still need to nurture our Jewish identity. Temple is a place, of course, where we offer the full range of standard Jewish observance – Shabbat and holidays, Torah study and Adult Learning courses, social engagements, interfaith outreach, and a multitude of volunteer opportunities. But we also create occasions throughout the year to immerse ourselves more fully in a meaningful Jewish experience.

Each fall for the past three years, we have taken a group of young families for a weekend retreat at Butzel/Tamarack. On March 1-3, Cantor Kalmowitz and I will join a large delegation of Temple members for the yearly AIPAC Policy Conference in Washington, D.C. This coming May 8-9, Rabbi Brudney will lead her fourth annual Women’s Retreat. We are hoping to gather Temple members for trips to Israel and Cuba within the next two years.

And just last month, over the MLK weekend, I took a group of our Temple teens to the Big Apple! Along with Laura Williams (Director of Cultural Resources) and Scott Lowen (Director of Youth Engagement), we explored both Jewish and touristy New York. Among the highlights were a beautiful Shabbat service at Central Synagogue, our own creative photo scavenger hunt/service in Central Park, eating at the legendary Katz’s Deli on the Lower East Side, a tour of the Tenement Museum where we got to see how many of our ancestors lived when they first came to America, walking around Times Square, riding the subway, seeing the off-Broadway show “Stomp,” visiting Ground Zero, and stumbling upon the Women’s March.

About 20 years ago, there was a study which indicated that trips to Israel and Jewish summer camps were the most powerful factors in helping children develop a strong Jewish identity. The common thread was that both are “immersive” experiences. In other words, there is no substitute for putting yourself into a 24-hours-a-day opportunity to eat, drink, sleep, learn, play, and simply breathe Judaism.

Whew! It really is incredible how much can happen in a short amount of time – whether you are a teen, a young family, a woman, an Israel advocate, or anyone interested in traveling … I hope you will take part in some of the fantastic immersive programming we offer at TBE. When you do, I am confident you will walk away feeling a stronger connection to both your Jewish identity and to the people with whom you share the journey.

Join the TBE delegation at our country’s largest pro-Israel conference, bringing together many of the world’s top politicians, thinkers, and community leaders.

“Participating in the WJC Elections is the only way North American Jews can weigh in democratically about issues in Israel.

See pg. 4 for details.”
To my beloved TBE Family:

Some of you may know that I am a candidate on the ARZA Reform and Reconstructionist Slate for the upcoming World Zionist Congress, and I could have the chance to travel to Israel as a delegate in October 2020. What you may not know is why this year’s convening in Jerusalem is so particularly important to me as a Reform Jew.

To quote the Union for Reform Judaism’s newest podcast, “Wholly Jewish,” I am a firm believer in the “Jewish and... and” philosophy. For instance, I am Jewish and black and bisexual and a writer, to name a few. My Jewish “and...and’s” impact how I interact in Jewish spaces and how others may perceive me. Therefore, I also firmly believe in Audacious Hospitality, the URJ’s initiative to embrace diversity, equity, and inclusion in all of our communities. As its website says, “Jewish diversity, in all its hues, is no longer a wave – it is the ocean of Jewish life.”

What does this have to do with the World Zionist Congress? Everything. The Congress makes decisions that affect the status of Progressive (Reform) Jews in Israel, and a vote for Reform is a vote for Jewish diversity. Jews in Israel come from many different races and ethnicities, gender identities, sexual orientations, ability statuses, and levels of Jewish observance. There is more than one way to be Jewish, to look Jewish, and to act Jewish, and Jews of all backgrounds deserve to be treated with dignity, equity, and respect under the law.

This is why I am asking you to get out the vote and support the Reform and Reconstructionist Slate for the World Zionist Congress.

You are able to place your vote for the Reform and Reconstructionist Slate online. You will see my name on the ballot, as well as TBE’s very own Cantor Rachel Gottlieb Kalmowitz!

Many thanks and much love,
Chris Harrison
#VoteReformWZC

To my Jewish friends and congregants:

As you may have heard me mention, I am a candidate on the ARZA Reform and Reconstructionist Slate for the upcoming World Zionist Congress, a legislative body that meets every five years in Jerusalem, and I am asking you to get online and Vote Reform.

The 2020 World Zionist Congress will make decisions regarding the priorities of the key National Institutions of Israel and the allocation of nearly $1 billion in funding in support of Israel and world Jewry. This election is the only way that a Jew in the diaspora can have a democratic voice in Israel. And Israelis are watching to see whether we still care about what is going on there, or is the growing apathy pervasive.

In order to be eligible to vote, one needs to be 18 by June 2020, self-identify as Jewish, and agree to the principles of the Jerusalem Program, which views “a Jewish, Zionist, democratic and secure State of Israel to be the expression of the common responsibility of the Jewish people for its continuity and future.” There is also an administrative fee of $7.50, which can be paid with credit card or PayPal. The larger the number of votes our slate receives, the larger the number of delegates we can send to the Congress. So, to be clear, you are voting for a movement, an entire slate, not just one person. The more delegates we send to the Congress, the greater our impact on the strength and influence of the Reform Movement, and the greater our impact on creating a more pluralistic society in Israel. And this year, I will be among ARZA’s slate of delegates, as will our member Chris Harrison, an influencer and writer for the Union for Reform Judaism. So, a vote for ARZA is a vote for both of us to be a part of the World Zionist Congress in October in Jerusalem, proud to represent Temple Beth El and the Reform movement. If you need help voting, ask me or one of our staff or volunteers! This is so important, and will take about 3 minutes of your time.

Thank you so much!
Cantor Rachel Gottlieb Kalmowitz

TU BISH’VAT CONNECTION

Tu BiSh’vat, sometimes called the “New Year of the Trees”, is a special holiday that recognizes our connection to nature around us. There are lots of ways to observe this holiday, like planting trees or taking action for, environmental justice. Some people will celebrate Tu BiSh’vat with a special seder that incorporates the seven species or sheva minim.

For this make-and-take, we will incorporate Tu BiSh’vat by adding one of the seven species (olives) by adding an olive branch to our paper flower arrangement. In addition, because this holiday marks the beginning of spring and we might not be feeling the spring weather here in Michigan, we will create our own Iceland Poppy blossoms using the incredible technique that we will learn from our facilitator, Meaghan Keck. The final product will bring a little bit of nature to our homes and offices just in time for Tu BiSh’vat, which starts that night! Check out the event description and Meaghan’s bio for more information!

MEAGHAN KECK

Meaghan Keck, owner of Birch Affair believes in connecting personal stories through visual curation. Whether it be through the design of a wedding, styling products for brands, creating custom paper flowers, or teaching workshops, Meaghan strives to weave the stories of her clients into what others see.

Birch Affair began as a paper flower business and since has evolved into the world of design and styling. With a love of paper flowers and paper art, Meaghan continues to hone her skills as well as share her knowledge via workshops so others can create realistic blooms year-round.

Catbird: The Ballad of Barbi Prim
BY BARBARA J. OSTFELD
MONDAY, FEBRUARY 24
10 AM & 7 PM
Facilitated by Barbara J. Ostfeld

In Catbird: The Ballad of Barbi Prim, the world meets an insightful, opinionated eight-year-old growing up plump, nerdy and Jewish in a Chicago suburb. Three things make her happy: singing, reading books, and going to Temple. Ridicule makes her afraid to open her mouth, even though she really can sing. But she persists, and with her awkwardness, anxiety, and fear in tow, embarks on an imperfect but continuing metamorphosis to become the strong, well-coiffed heroine of her own story.

This year, Israeli author Yossi Klein Halevi shares his story at Temple Beth El. On behalf of the Board of Trustees, the Clergy and the staff of Temple Beth El, we want to thank everyone who contributed to the 2019 Annual Appeal.

The Temple’s Annual Appeal is an important source of revenue that helps support our amazing community, our historic institution, and our diverse spiritual, educational and meaningful programming.

Thank you for making Temple Beth El a philanthropic priority. Best wishes for a happy and healthy 2020.
Greetings from the Executive Office

I cannot believe that I am rounding out my second season of our annual appeal with all of you. As I looked back to my previous article there is no question much has stayed the same. My family and I continue to see many of you at services, programs and in the community. Your stories of Temple Beth El resonate more and more with me as I become a Michigander. Temple Beth El has a bright future with all of your warmth and dedication to our Temple.

It’s clear that our members really show up for their community - I’ve been impressed by attendance at events and programs, and I’m overwhelmed by your generosity in this year’s Annual Appeal. I want to thank each of you who made a donation. Large or small, every contribution matters and makes an impact. This year we’re proud that we have many first time donors, and that many families who haven’t given in years have chosen to give once again. Thank you again, truly, for supporting our community and ensuring Temple’s future.

I look forward to creating even more memories with you.

2019-20 is the first year that the Detroit area has Shinshinim in our community. Our shinshinim are four Israeli young people spending the year here in Detroit dedicated to working in our Jewish schools and synagogues teaching about Israel. They are in our day schools, preschools, and synagogue schools building relationships and teaching us about the Israel that they love.

Here at Temple Beth El we have two of the shinshinim with us. Tamar visits us in the ECC every week on Mondays and Wednesdays. Recently, each classroom took a pretend trip to Israel with Tamar and received a real boarding pass from El Al. When Tamar enters the class, the children yell, “shalom” with excitement and then proceed to engage with Tamar in a hands-on activity where she shares “her Israel.” Our children adore Tamar and love hearing all about her life in Israel. Last week, one child in the PK program asked sincerely how he would find Tamar when he visits Israel one day.

Yuval visits our Masa program once a month. Each time he comes he meets with a different grade level and runs a program on technology developed in Israel and how Israel is meeting its water shortage issues.

Our Masa students have loved learning from Yuval and asking him all kinds of questions about his life in Israel.

These shinshinim have been amazing assets in our community. Thank you to the Jewish Federation of Metro Detroit for bringing this program to our community and sharing these amazing young people with us.

TBE TEENS TAKE NEW YORK!

TBE High School students spent the MLK weekend exploring New York City with Rabbi Miller, Scott Lowen, and Laura Williams. We attended Shabbat services at Central Synagogue for a special Martin Luther King service; explored Times Square, Central Park, the 9/11 memorial, and even stumbled upon the Women’s March. We saw the show, Stomp, learned about the history of espionage at the Spyscape Museum, and saw how early Jewish immigrants lived on the Lower East Side at the Tenement Museum, then completed our trip with lunch at Katz’s Deli. The weekend was filled with great food, friends and fun!
