One of life’s utmost joys is the birth of a new baby, and at Temple, we are eager to help you celebrate! As soon as you let us know that your baby has been born, we will certainly publicize the occasion (if you choose), and you may find a basket of goodies on your doorstep from our Caring Community. But there is much more.

A bris for boys, or a "brit-bat" for girls, can be a beautiful way to welcome your little one into the world. It is a time to celebrate with family and friends, bless your child, give them a Hebrew name, and take part in the lovely ritual of welcoming them into the Jewish covenant. These ceremonies can be done at Temple, your home, or just about any location that would be comfortable. And if you are not interested in a full ceremony, parents often bring a new child to Temple during a Friday night or Saturday morning service, to receive a special blessing on the bimah in front of loved ones and the community.

Whatever feels right to you, our rabbis and cantor are prepared. Any one of them would be happy to help celebrate this incredible moment with your family ... just contact them at the Temple by calling or emailing Laura Lucassian at llucassian@theonline.org or 248.851.1100.
LOIS SHAEVSKY ... A Pillar of Vibrancy

Temple member Lois Shaevsky was honored by the Birmingham Community House January 28, 2017. She was among seven community volunteers cited as “Pillars of Vibrancy” in the categories of Education, Culture, Wellness, and Philanthropy.

Lois Shaevsky credits her parents for instilling in her the value of caring for others. They taught by example that it was important not only to contribute one’s own funds, time and effort, but also to persuade others in the community to participate financially and personally, to meet community needs.

Maybe this is why several Oakland University publications have referred to Lois as the ‘Queen of Fundraising” and as “Rolodex Diva – The Networkers Shall Inherit the Earth.”

Seven Blessings

by Ruchama King

The closed, secret world of matchmaking in contemporary Israel provides the titillating pivot for a story of uncommon proportions. Ruchama King’s, Seven Blessings maps out the complicated lives of five expatriate women and men whose search for a soul mate, in many ways, mirrors their search for God. Facilitated by Rabbi Megan Brudney.

The 5 book series is $25.

Drop-in fee: $10/per session.

SUNDAY MORNING BREAKFAST SPEAKER  |  GERALD S. COLE, PhD.  |  SUNDAY, MARCH 19  |  9:30 AM

Experiencing China as a Scientist and a Tourist

You may be aware of Jerry’s service as past Brotherhood President and long-time manager of the Sunday Morning Breakfast crew. However, you will probably be surprised to learn about his distinguished scientific background.

An in-demand international expert in the use of magnesium and other lightweight materials in automotive and other applications, his career has taken him to countries around the globe including France, Israel, and Australia, in addition to China, Canada and Mexico.

Jerry’s 37-year career with Ford Motor Company included spearheading overall vehicle weight reduction using magnesium, aluminum, and composites. While supervising two Ford Research laboratories. Since retiring from Ford, Jerry has founded two companies and consulted extensively. He has published 170 papers and nine patents, and is an Adjunct Professor in materials science, metallurgy, engineering and manufacturing at five universities worldwide, including Chongqing University in China, where he managed a multi-year UM research program.

Don’t miss this fascinating discussion and photo presentation from Jerry’s (over 2 decades) of experiences with China. Come early, and enjoy the Sunday Morning Breakfast at 9:00 AM before Jerry’s presentation.

BREAK THE CHAIN is a feature-length documentary film that addresses the often hidden-in-plain-sight issue of Human Trafficking within Michigan communities and the United States. The film chronicles two survivors of Human Trafficking – providing a detailed look at how trafficking goes unnoticed within our backyards. Accompanying the stories of these survivors are nearly 20 interviews with researchers, Senators, non-profit organizations, legal service agencies, law enforcement officers and several artists actively working to raise awareness for this global issue.

Sanctum House is a home for female adult survivors of human trafficking. Its mission is to provide a sanctuary for these women survivors and to empower them with the life-skills they need in order to achieve a sustainable and independent lifestyle.

The Director of Internships at Northwestern Memorial Hospital stared at me with an intensity I had never felt before. I sensed the redness creeping up my cheeks and spreading onto my neck. Glancing around the room, I awkwardly searched for an answer, for something to say, but the truth was that I didn’t have another reason. I sheepishly replied, “I don’t know.” As I walked out of the hospital, Chicago felt less promising than it had earlier that day. After calling my mom, I called the University of Loyola’s Office of the Registrar and withdrew myself from the Social Work Program.

Looking back, I could have said I didn’t need another reason to want to work as an intern in oncology at Northwestern, that my dad’s death from pancreatic cancer was enough of a reason to become a medical social worker. But hindsight is 20/20, and the 23-year-old me thought I should have more reasons. I spent the next three years searching for a way to overcome those feelings of defeat, and finally found a sense of accomplishment when I completed a different master’s program in a different city, ultimately leading to a new career journey. And it all started with a question.

March 14 is International Ask a Question Day. It is also Albert Einstein’s birthday. Einstein said, “The important thing is not to stop questioning”. Reasons to ask questions, according to Dr. Marilee Adams of the Inquiry Institute, include gathering information, learning and teaching, challenging assumptions, reflecting, resolving conflicts, as well as building and maintaining relationships.

I challenge you to ask a question - to yourself, to another member, or even one of our Temple staff! We here at Temple always want to keep the doors of communication open and since a question not asked is a door unopened… ask away!

I have enjoyed Chartreuse Kitchen ever since it opened in 2015. It is one of the first and best of the new wave restaurants in the D, so I was excited to go back. Aside from outstanding food, this cool, chic restaurant is one of the most user friendly eateries in Detroit. It’s on Kirby and Woodward, in the historic Park-Shelton building, with free garage parking in the building structure (entrance on Woodward). Chartreuse takes and honors reservations. Reliable and consistent, Chartreuse has never let me down. This night getting there wasn’t easy because M-10 was backed up. My husband and I turned on each other as traffic crawled at a snail’s pace. I imagined losing my reservation and having to fight the 20-year old host who’d give me a wan, patronizing smile while explaining the hopelessness of the situation before banishing me to a coney island (I guess a few conys at Lafayette wouldn’t have been a total loss).

After passing a car in flames in the middle lane of M-10 and feeling the intense heat of the burning wreck as we drove on the shoulder around it, we made it to Chartreuse and enjoyed a fantastic meal. We loved the house specialty - twice cooked egg, Great Lakes whitefish, fried oysters and a chimichanga filled with butternut squash and rutabaga. Despite a close encounter with fire, we forged ahead because, for a good meal, we are willing to risk it all.

Nearly 200 people gathered at TBE recently for the 75th annual Glazer Institute, the longest-running interfaith institute in the nation. Participants from a multitude of ethnic and faith backgrounds were treated to a dazzling talk by internationally-renowned Rabbi David Wolpe, who discussed the Jewish context for building a stronger interfaith community. Participants also heard prayers from Imam Almasmari of the Muslim Unity Center and Rev. Bill Danaher from Christ Church Cranbrook, and spent time interacting with new friends and singing together with Cantor Gottlieb Kalmowitz. Please go to our website (www.tbeonline.org) to see Rabbi Wolpe’s full presentation, more photos, and copies of congratulatory letters from Governor Snyder, Senators Stabenow and Peters, and Representative Sander Levin.

Bat Mitzvah of Gabrielle Blau

Gabrielle is a 5th generation member of Temple Beth El and a 7th grade student at Warner Middle School in Farmington Hills. She enjoys dancing, drawing, spending time with friends, and attending Tamarack Camps. For her Mitzvah Project she spent time packing food at the Gleaners Community Food Bank in Detroit, preparing and serving food at the Detroit Orthodox Soup Kitchen, and volunteering for the Friendship Circle's Sunday Circle program. She has worked very hard preparing for her Bat Mitzvah and is excited for her big day. Gabrielle is the daughter of Risa & David Blau and the sister of Sydney. She is the granddaughter of Louise Pilchik and the late Hyman Pilchik, and Fayclare & Robert Blau.
