ENCORE FOR ARDEN THE GREAT

The Rabbi Leo M. Franklin Archives was pleased to accept a recent donation on behalf of Ellin Lawson and her sons. The gift consisted of a book titled “Encore for Arden the Great” which is dated December 19, 2015. It is one of only two books that were printed by Ellin’s cousin Karl Ecker to commemorate the donation of their grandfather’s scrapbook of newspaper clippings, playbills and programs to the David Copperfield Museum and Library of Conjuring Arts in Las Vegas. Burt G. Arden was born in Europe (1874). Resisting his parents’ wishes to enter the rabbinate, he joined the circus in Poland. Traveling to the U.S., he worked with a sideshow magician to learn “feats of magic” and later traveled across this country entertaining audiences with his expertise in prestidigitation. While in Chicago (1898) he met, fell in love, and married Rebecca Reuben. The bride’s father put a condition on their approval of the nuptials: Burt must give up the stage and “settle down” into a serious career. The couple made their home in Detroit. Burt found success as an insurance adjustor, concert hall proprietor, clothing dealer, real estate owner and developer and part owner of the Abbott-Detroit Car Company. He continued to perform as a magician, often for charitable groups in the city. Burt died in 1945 and is buried in Clover Hills Park Cemetery next to Rebecca. Ellin’s fondness for her grandfather was obvious. As she handed me the book, her eyes filled with tears and she said that she had been blessed with four of the best grandparents anyone could ask for.
The Luminous Heart of Jonah S. by Gina B. Nihai

"Nahai has crafted an engaging combination of family saga and murder mystery, placed it in the framework of a relatively unknown subculture, and peopled it with fascinating characters. Flavored with both elements of magical realism and down-to-earth observations, The Luminous Heart of Jonah S. brings a little-known Los Angeles community to vivid life." Facilitator: Marilyn Gans Schelberg, PhD., Judaic Educator.

There is a $10/session drop-in fee. For more information or to RSVP contact, Eileen Polk, Librarian at epolk@tbeonline or 248.851.1100.
From where we have come. Our educational programs at Beth El have come a long way in the past year. Our Early Childhood Educator, Susie Weiner, has brought new energy and warmth to our Early Childhood Programming. Our Director of Youth Engagement, Joey Unger, has been reinvigorating our Youth Programming with family programming like our Star Wars Night and the Purim Carnival and youth activities for grades 3-12. Adult Education has featured familiar offerings like Torah Study as well as new Adult B’nai Mitzvah and Introduction to Judaism classes. Religious School included many new initiatives during the 2015-16 school year including our Hebrew Through Movement approach to Hebrew education, reimagined curriculum in all grades, all new family programs and more intentional T’fillah (services) for grades K-6, a new 7th grade program, and a redesigned Monday Night School program featuring many electives. I have requested and received lots of input into our programming as the year has progressed from students, parents, and teachers, and we are definitely moving in the right direction.

To where we are heading. As we always seek to grow and improve, here are some things you can look forward to in the coming year. A new alternative program for families in grades K and 1; a redesigned 7th grade program better suited to the scheduling needs of our families; an active 7th and 8th grade JBE Youth Group to engage our young teens and get them excited and prepared for BETY, our Senior Youth Group; and new Adult Education offerings.

Before whom we are accountable. Pirke Avot suggests that we are accountable to God as we reflect and plan, and of course, I always remember that Jewish education is God’s work. But in addition, we are accountable to our students and their families to always provide high quality Jewish experiences that engage and excite. I am also accountable to our education committees, board of trustees, and colleagues who challenge and support me in this work.

Thank you to all who have given me guidance so far, and to all who will continue to help guide this ongoing process of learning and growth.

Ethics of our Ancestors

Pirke Avot

by Deborah Morosohk, RJE, Director of Education

As I come to the end of my first full school year at Temple Beth El, I find myself both reflecting on what we have accomplished so far, and setting goals for the coming year and beyond. We are taught in Pirke Avot (Ethics of our Ancestors) that it is critical to consider three things, from where we have come, to where we are heading, and before whom we are accountable. Both Jewish tradition and good educational practice require thoughtful reflection and goal setting, so here are mine.

On TLC’s “Two in a Million,” you’ll watch two people dealing with rare, and sometimes isolating, diseases, meet for the first time. In the emotional first episode, you get to know Giovanni and Owen, two young boys with Schwartz Jampel Syndrome. This medical discovery was made by Dr. Jampel and Dr. Oscar Schwartz in the early 1960’s, with the first described cases being reported in 1962. You can watch the documentary online at www.tlc.com/tlcme/what-is-schwartz-jampel-syndrome-and-just-how-rare-is-it/.

Mark Canvasser: Running for a Cure

Mark Canvasser can now proudly wear a medal of accomplishment by completing the 120th Boston Marathon. Mark described his experience as “One of the greatest events in all the world. Many of us have never had the chance to step on home plate at Comerica Park or score a winning goal at Joe Louis Arena. The Boston Marathon is not limited to those feelings. Even though I may not be setting any great world records, just having the opportunity to run the same pavement as the world’s top runners solidifies a champion feeling.”

Mark has had a personal motivation to run. Mark’s wife Marla is a two-time Non-Hodgkins Lymphoma survivor. Mark has used his passion for running to raise funds and awareness needed to fight this life-changing disease. Over the past 10 years, the Canvasser Family has raised over three hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars to help find a cure.

PLEASE LET THE CLERGY KNOW!

HIPAA laws prevent hospitals from releasing names of patients. Please call the Rabbis’ Study to let the clergy know when you or a family member is in the hospital and would welcome a visit. This is the only way in which they can be made aware of hospitalizations, and be there for you when you need them. We would also like to know when you or your family members relocate to a senior facility or rehabilitation center. Please contact Laura Lucassian at llucassian@tbeonline.org or 248.851.1100.

The Perfect Ending Each Shabbat...Enjoying Food With One Another

Each Friday evening and Saturday morning, following services, we gather together to share in the Oneg Shabbat or Kiddush and enjoy one another’s company. We ask you to consider helping maintain this festive atmosphere with a donation to the Oneg/Kiddush Fund to help defray the costs when there is no sponsor. Your gift will be recognized in the monthly Bulletin and at services.

Celebrate Special Events With Your TBE Family

Sponsor a Friday evening Oneg or Saturday morning Kiddush. For sponsorships call Marianne Myers at 248.851.1100.
