Every morning I have a personal struggle: do I continue straight, or do I turn right? Continuing straight leads directly to work, turning right leads to...Starbucks. I have a love-hate relationship with Starbucks. Or rather, I love Starbucks and my husband hates the credit card statements that come from it.

In my defense, I have downgraded my drink from the $5.04 double tall, two pump sugar free vanilla, two pump sugar free hazelnut, soy latte. Now, I proudly order the $2.92 tall Americano with sugar free vanilla and a steamed soy topper...a daily savings of $2.12 and a 5-day weekly savings of $10.60. My husband is correct, however, in telling me that work has free coffee. Yet, there is something about that Starbucks cup that provides a bit of extra perk in the morning.

The other day I gave in to turning right, and found myself in line surrounded by the scent of fresh brewing goodness. A woman stood before me and spoke to Kris, the cashier at my Starbucks, in an extremely demeaning way. I turned to the man behind me in line and gave him a look that I hoped translated into 'can you believe this lady'. The man behind me, in a patient and gentle tone, simply said: "I'm so grateful I'm not her" and went back to looking at his phone. After I got my Americano, apologized to Kris on the awful lady's behalf, and made my way to work, I thought about what that man said: 'I'm so grateful I'm not her'. He didn't call the woman a derogatory name, or comment on her not so nice behavior, but rather he turned a negative about someone else into a positive about himself.

When was the last time I did that? We are so fast to judge others, yet we take such little time to redirect and turn inward. I began to think about the things in my life I was grateful for, one of them being that man at Starbucks.

In November, this month of Thanksgiving, it is my hope that we all take a moment in our day to remember the things we have in our lives; whether it be in the morning before work, in the evening before bed, or in line waiting for coffee. There is always something to be grateful for - we simply need to pause, and remember.

Operationally Speaking...

Kim Raznik, Executive Director
kraznik@tbeonline.org

Without question, safety and security are two personal priorities for me; not only in my role as Executive Director, but in my personal life as well. I tend to count the rows between me and the nearest exit, I never enter a business when the Brinks truck is there, and I always look for potential lockdown and evacuation options in public places. I imagine it sounds like a bit much, but to me, it's part of my daily routine - not only here, but with other security professionals in the Jewish community.

Security Professionals

That said, keeping people safe in a 185-thousand square foot facility is no small task. It takes a competent staff, routine drills, and new technology. At TBE, we are fortunate to have all three. Thanks to Morris Collins and his security team of Ken Jackson and Donzelle Graham, we are covered from open to close with highly trained and dedicated professionals. Collectively they have almost 100 years of protective service experience. Morris regularly conducts evacuation, lockdown, and shelter-in-place drills for the entire building population. We constantly discuss best practices and ways to improve our communication and emergency response.

Security Upgrades

As you may know, we were awarded a 75 thousand dollar Homeland Security Grant in 2015 for target hardening. Based on security assessments from local law enforcement and JFMD Security Director Gary Sikorsky, we are focusing on intrusion control, camera surveillance, and video/intercom remote access. When the security upgrades are complete, you will be able to enter through the Sanctuary entrance as well as the North entrance by communicating with the Chapel security reception desk via an intercom & camera. Also, we are installing dozens of surveillance cameras, screening monitors, and recording devices in hopes of never having to use them.

Under the supervision of TBE IT Specialist Matt Hammond, Security 101 is finishing up installation of the new technology and looking to begin training and implementation by month's end.

I am happy to share we have been awarded a second 75 thousand dollar Homeland Security Grant for 2016, which will go toward additional target hardening.

Thank you for your support in making TBE the safest place we can be, and remember, if you see something, say something.

ANNUAL APPEAL

*The Annual Appeal is under way...
and our spirit
is growing.*

Over the past year we have shared so many successes, exciting changes, and longstanding traditions at Temple Beth El.

We are proud of our new clergy and staff, our innovative educational programs, and our growing temple community. But without your support, we cannot reach our ambitious goals and provide the programming you expect and deserve.

Membership dues provide less than one-third of the revenue necessary to operate our institution. Your gift to the Annual Appeal, however large or small, will help ensure that Temple Beth El will continue to provide the personal support, religious education, and creative programming that is such a relevant and important part of our lives.

2016 Annual Appeal Co-Chairs Mike Abrams and Maxine Lievois are hard at work spearheading this important project and are available to share their perspective on the importance of supporting our 165-year old treasure.

Please take a moment to go online to www.tbeonline.org to make a donation, or contact Executive Director Kim Raznik at 248.851.1100 to discuss your pledge.

ROSH HASHANAH PRESIDENT'S REMARKS

L'Shana Tovah - Happy New Year!

On behalf of the Officers and the Board of Trustees, we wish each and every one of you a happy, healthy, and sweet New Year. May the year 5777 be a year of peace.

Jordon Wertheimer, President would like to take a moment, quickly, and thank our magnificent clergy – Rabbi Mark Miller, Rabbi Megan Brudney, Cantor Rachel Kalmowitz, and Rabbi Daniel Syme – thank you all for inspiring us, for guiding us – for being our spiritual consciousness. But more importantly, I would like to thank your families - Rachel Ann, Carey, and Jill. Thank you for sharing these wonderful people with all of us. Thank you to Kim Raznik, our Executive Director, and our entire Temple staff, for the fantastic work that they do, day in and day out. You all dedicate yourselves to this synagogue so beautifully, and we are thankful for what you do – and wish you and your families a joyful New Year.

I am honored to be standing here on this magnificent bimah, as your President. In these past few months, we have celebrated many milestones and achievements. In May, Rachel Kalmowitz, upon her graduation from the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, became a certified Cantor. In June, we celebrated Rabbi Syme's 20 years of Rabbinic Leadership as he became our Rabbi Emeritus – just the 3rd Emeritus Rabbi in our congregation's 166 year history. Since 2014, Rabbi Mark Miller has been our Senior Rabbi; leading us into an exciting future – bringing with him Rabbi Megan Brudney, our newest clergy addition, who joined our Temple this past July.

John F. Kennedy once said, "Change is the law of life. And those who look only to the past or present are certain to miss the future." With Rabbi Miller, Rabbi Brudney, and Cantor Kalmowitz – our future is bright. Like the city of Detroit, Temple Beth El is a blank canvas; ready and eager to be shaped and molded, open to innovating new and exciting ideas - out of the box ideas that will push the boundaries of what we thought was possible – in order to grow. Grow our culture. Grow our standing in the community. Grow our membership. Grow our programming. Grow our school. To be the standard built by Rabbi Franklin, continued by Rabbi Glazer, and fostered under Rabbi Hertz.

I am proud to stand here on behalf of our Temple, to help guide this sacred institution into the future. And there is much to be proud of, as we head together towards the future – there is so much here that Temple can provide for you and your families. Our warm and inviting services, our musical Shabbats, where it's literally standing room only. Our caring and dedicated clergy, who are here for all of us, in times of joy and sorrow. In sickness and in health. Our Sunday morning minyan group. Our Nosh & Knowledge learning series. Our vibrant Brotherhood, our Sisterhood, who just recently changed their name to the Women of Temple Beth El, our beloved Beth Elders, and for those of you even younger than me – there is our Beth El Temple Youth (known simply as BETY) for our teens in grades 9-12. And for 7th and 8th graders, there is JBETY – as well as an innovative and growing religious school and our treasured Early Childhood Center.

Temple Beth El can be such a rewarding piece in your life – it reminds me of a book I used to read as a kid – a book many of us have read, over and over again. It's called 'The Giving Tree' by Shel Silverstein. It's about a tree that loved this little boy and the boy loved this tree right back. As a little boy, he would visit the tree every day, gather her leaves, climb up her trunk, eat her apples, swing from her branches. As the boy got older, he came to the tree less and less – but whenever the tree saw the boy, she was happy. When the boy was a young man, she encouraged him to take her apples and sell them so the boy would have some money. As the boy aged, the tree encouraged him to cut off her branches and build a house. When the boy wanted a boat – the tree encouraged him to cut her trunk and build a boat. Time passed, and the boy returned, now an old man. The tree had nothing left to give. The old man looked at the tree, and asked if he could just sit there and rest quietly. And the boy did – and the tree was happy.

Throughout life, we all use Temple Beth El differently; sometimes more when our kids are young, and less once they are out of the house – but no matter what – Temple Beth El will always be here for you – will always be here for your family – and we will be happy.

Reading that story to my daughter reminded me of a proverb that teaches us that, "the best time to plant a tree was 20 years ago. The 2nd best time is today."

SO WHAT CAN WE DO TODAY – THAT WILL SHAPE OUR TOMORROW?

Just this past month, our Executive Committee received the results of a study that will help us determine the possibility of a comprehensive capital campaign for our Temple. It would include architectural and building updates, the growing of our endowment, the creation of Rabbinic & Cantorial chairs, and a concentrated effort on planned giving. This survey, conducted by a leading strategic fundraising and development group, named CCS, gave us a lot of insight about who we are as a Temple community, and what we're looking for as we head towards the future.

For me, the goal is to protect, secure and endow the future of Temple Beth El. We must honor those who have come before us, by safeguarding what they have entrusted in our keeping. Each of us, as members of this distinguished and historic congregation, have an obligation to do our part. Being a legacy here at Temple Beth El, a multi-generational member, means that we need to continue what our mothers and fathers, grandmothers and grandfathers, aunts and uncles did during their time here. And for so many sitting here today who are first generation Beth El members, we hope that your families will look back at you, as the ones who helped build a strong tradition for them. All of us can do our part, to be mindful, and watch over our beloved Beth El.

Over the next few years, as your elected leaders on the board and executive committee put together a plan on how best to implement our fundraising strategy, I ask all of you to please open your hearts for a future conversation. I ask that while we start building a culture of philanthropy, that you make Temple Beth El a philanthropic priority in your annual giving, as well as in your estate planning – so that a century from now, when they speak of those who came before them, the foundation for the 22nd century started with us in this distinguished sanctuary. What past Presidents Bob Canvasser, Marvin Goldman, Mert Segal and others did in the late 1960s and early 1970s – we must do again today.

Times change. People change. Society changes. But what was once old is new again. Now is time for Temple Beth El to reclaim its rightful place amongst the great Reform congregations. Temple Beth El will not follow trends, we will create the movement. But we need to commit to ourselves, to being the best that we can be. That we learn from our mistakes of the past and build an optimistic, hopeful, and bright future. That each of us dig deep within us, and be the best that we can be. That we value our Temple and value our Judaism. Like Elie Wiesel once said, "Hope is like peace. It is not a gift from God. It is a gift only we can give one another."

My hope for all of us is to remember the Beth El of our youth. Of our children's youth; that we remember the apples and branches and leaves that our beloved Beth El tree has provided for all of us, over the many years, and may we come together as a congregation, to insure its future for generations more. As Mother Teresa often said, "Yesterday is gone. Tomorrow has not yet come. We have only today. Let us begin."

On behalf of my wife Alex and my daughter Everly, we wish you a happy and sweet New Year.

High Holy Days

Our High Holy Days at Temple Beth El this year were spiritual, joyous, reflective, warm, innovative, and of course musical.

We hope that everyone who attended Rosh Hashanah and/or Yom Kippur walked away uplifted, optimistic, and ready for another great year at Temple.

Enjoy these snapshots taken from a few of our events, and we look forward to seeing you soon!

GOLDMAN UNION CAMP INSTITUTE

Since 1958, Goldman Union Camp Institute (GUCI) has provided campers a place to build lifelong friendships, explore Judaism, and have the time of their lives. Studies show that attending a Jewish summer camp does more to positively develop Jewish identity in our young people than most traditional types of programming. Our GUCI campers come back with enthusiasm and love for their Judaism, as well as memories and friendships that last a lifetime.

Temple Beth El had several campers at GUCI last summer and we hope to have many more in 2017. Please consider giving your child the gift of this extraordinary Jewish camp experience.

Students will participate in six school day-long field trips over the coming year. They will travel to different houses of worship and learn about the differences and similarities between some of the major religions practiced in metro-Detroit.

THESE RELIGIONS INCLUDE CHRISTIANITY, JUDAISM, ISLAM, HINDUISM, AND SIKHISM.

The summation session is to be held at the Holocaust Memorial Center.

*Masoret (Tradition) is the name for Temple Beth El's new
Sunday morning
Adult Education Series.*

We hope that many in our community will come together monthly for Jewish learning and sharing. Classes will meet on Sundays 10:00 – 11:00 am, so we hope that many of our Religious School parents will take this opportunity to learn while their children do.

This year (5777) the theme of Masoret is "Celebrating through the Jewish Year".

We'll come to understand the Jewish calendar and the holidays that happen throughout the year.
