YOUR TEMPLE WORKING FOR YOU

Temple Beth El has 167 years of history, nearly 1,100 member families, and a calendar packed with opportunities to connect, learn, celebrate, and volunteer. But just as important, our Temple is here to provide resources, guidance, rituals, and spiritual counseling for a range of special moments throughout your lifetime. Each month, this column will introduce you to another aspect of what Temple has to offer, with specifics about how to take advantage of your membership.

BIG ANNIVERSARIES

Marriage is a sacred obligation in Jewish tradition, and anniversaries are worthy of celebration! As a Temple family, we are going to start recognizing members who are observing a “quinquennial” anniversary (every five years) with a special blessing on the bima. Temple is all about the people, and we are always looking for more ways to connect with others and build strong relationships. So we hope you will share your joy with us, as we highlight and honor your marriage.

Each month, starting in January, we will choose one Friday night service and invite those who are celebrating your 5th, 10th, etc. anniversary. We will reach out to everyone whose anniversary we know, but watch for more details in the Bulletin each month. And for those married 50 years, or 55, or more ... please let us know so that we can prepare a special gift – you are an inspiration to all of us!

For more information, or to let us know about your special anniversary, please contact Rachel Rudman, Director of Member Relations, at rrudman@tbeonline.org or 248.851.1100.

CLERGY COLUMN

A MESSAGE FROM RABBI BRUDNEY

Shalom and a happy 5778 to our entire TBE family! It was wonderful spending so much time with you over the last few weeks. After all of the high intensity praying and sanctuary time of Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur, we are excited to be heading outdoors now in anticipation of the festival of Sukkot. I hope that many of you will join us in some of the events in our TBE sukkah.

A sukkah is, by design, a vulnerable and exposed structure. The roof should be highly permeable, letting in sunlight and breezes (preferable) as well as rain or even...snow (not). Most people do not enjoy sitting in inclement weather. As Jews living in Michigan’s unpredictable weather, then, where are we supposed to draw the line? The rabbis of old offer this guidance in Mishnah Sukkah 2:9: “When rain is falling, at what point may one leave the sukkah? When a cooked dish [that is easily spoiled by water] is ruined [by the rain].” I love the simple practicality of both the advice and the measurement itself. No references to obscure units, no painstaking collection of environmental data—just a judgment call that even a child could make.

More than the letter of this specific ruling, however, I love the can-do spirit of it. The rabbis tell us that we should not give up immediately (i.e. due to three isolated raindrops) if our plans seem to go awry—but neither do we need to sit and suffer through an experience that was not in fact intended to inflict pain. Moreover, though, by using personal preference as the measuring stick for when to give up, the rabbis encourage us and empower us to take our Judaism into our own hands. On the topic of a rainy Sukkot day, then, there is no higher authority than oneself!

What a beautiful, multi-pronged message as we start our new year: Judaism should be accessible. We should not immediately be deterred from engaging with our Judaism. Judaism should not cause extreme discomfort. And, with just a bit of training, we are all eminently capable of taking control of our own experience with our faith.

Shanah tovah,

Rabbi MEGAN BRUDNEY

HARVEST FESTIVAL

DID YOU KNOW?

(1980)

(1980)

(2000)

Sukkot is a harvest festival arriving in autumn, right after the Jewish New Year, that lasts seven days. Sukkot reminds us of the ancient Jewish people's escape from Egypt, when they lived in temporary shelters, which is why the holiday is also known as the Festival of Booths. It's traditional to build a sukkah, a temporary booth or hut, in which to gather, eat meals, sing, talk - even sleep, if the weather permits! A sukkah often has only three walls, leaving one side open to guests, and the top is covered loosely with greenery - thickly enough to be shaded from the sun during the day, but sparsely enough to see the stars at night. Some families decorate their sukkah with lights, streamers, and seasonal fruits; others take a minimal approach and leave their sukkah unadorned.

During the holiday, it is traditional to perform the ritual of the Four Species. One holds together the Lulav (a bundle of myrtle, willow, and palm fronds) and an Etrog (a citron) and waves them north, south, east, and west, and up and down. It's a mitzvah to perform this ritual during Sukkot. It's also a mitzvah to welcome guests into your sukkah.

At the end of Sukkot comes another joyous Jewish holiday: Simchat Torah ("celebration of the Torah"), which marks the completion of the annual cycle of the reading of the Torah. Each week in synagogue, Jews around the world publicly read the same Torah portions, starting with the first chapter of Genesis and working up to the final chapter of Deuteronomy. On Simchat Torah, the last chapter of Deuteronomy is read aloud; immediately after that the first chapter of Genesis is read again - so the Torah both ends and starts, a never-ending circle.

24 INTERWOVEN HISTORIES: Connections Between Jewish & African American History In Civil War Era Detroit

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 24

7:00 PM

Using the writing of John Brown, Frederick Douglass, and William Lambert, historian Jamon Jordan has uncovered the connections between Detroit's Jewish community and the Underground Railroad. Jordan's research has shown that prominent men such as Isaac Cozens, E.S. Heineman, Adolph Sloman and Dr. Leibman Adler were ALL important agents along the Northern escape route during the Civil War. Jordan is an educator and writer and in 2013 founded Black Scroll Network History and Tours that engages attendees with rich and important narratives of local Black history. Join us for this timely presentation. Sponsored by Dr. Robert and Joan M. Jampel. Co-sponsored by the Jewish Historical Society of Michigan. 02 FROM EXCLUSION TO INCLUSION:
The Jewish Journey in American Higher Education
 THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2
 7:00 PM

A Rabbi Leo M. Franklin Archives and The Mary Einstein Shapero Memorial Lecture Presentation. Children of Jewish immigrants were the first to test the ability of American universities to respond to the claims of a diverse society. By the 1920s elite universities, attempting to appeal to the social upper crust, introduced admission procedures familiar to us today. Professor Karla Goldman's presentation compares the experience of Jewish students at elite northeastern schools with Jews at the University of Michigan and considers the accessibility of higher education to those who are currently deemed as "social outsiders." Goldman is the Sol Drachler Professor of Social Work and Professor of Judaic Studies at the University of Michigan. No charge – everyone is welcome. Sponsored by the Honorable Walter Shapero. For more info or to RSVP, contact Laura Williams, Curator lwilliams@tbeonline.org or 248.851.1100.

CHERISHING EACH OTHER'S COMPANY

NO NEED TO WAIT

The first thing I was told about my soon-to-be brother in law was that he had the most unique, obnoxious, and hilarious laugh. I could not wait to meet Alex. He adhered to his Russian roots, exemplifying cultural stereotypes: he drank vodka like a fish, he worked hard but played much harder, and most of all, he loved furiously.

I will never forget the afternoon of October 9th. Five days after returning from my honeymoon, I came home from work to find a troubling look on my husband's face. I knew something was wrong. I soon learned that Alex was not answering his phone, nor had he shown up for work that day. Several hours of searching passed and then we learned that, at age 34, Alex had passed away. He left behind a then-pregnant wife, a son, a bright career, and countless loved ones, family and friends alike.

I share this story not to evoke sadness, but rather to incite inspiration and provide much-needed reminders to myself as well as our community. It has been nearly two years since Alex has been gone. Over that time, my family has undergone a period of tremendous growth. In the past, we would mostly gather for special occasions, whether they were holidays, celebrations, or grievous events. Now, however, we do not need a special occasion to be together and to cherish each other's company. So often, people require a specific event to meet, a reason to congregate, a special date on the calendar to come together and laugh or cry. Alex's passing reminded us that every day is a special day that can serve this purpose. While it is also important to recognize special occasions, we do not need to wait for a mark on the calendar to celebrate each other.

It is my hope that Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur have provided meaningful opportunities for reflection. This holiday season officially ends with the celebrations of Sukkot and Simchat

Torah. We hope you will join your Temple Family for these October events, as well as several other programs we have planned. But despite the technical end of the holiday season, we hope you will continue to join us whenever you would like. Our new foyer provides a great space to relax, enjoy some coffee, catch up on work, spend time with friends, or play a game of cards. We do not need to wait for a reason to enjoy this wonderful space and community.

Chazak, chazak, venit'chazek": be strong, be strong, and let us strengthen one another.

As this month comes to a close, I will be saying "see you later" for 3 months while I go on maternity leave. My challenge to you during these months is to cherish each other. Not because you have to, or because there is a birthday, a holiday, or a shiva, but because we are here. We exist together. As we say on Simchat Torah at the completion of the Torah, "Chazak, chazak, venit'chazek": be strong, be strong, and let us strengthen one another.

JOSH PEARLMAN

TBE Teen, Josh Pearlman, was accepted at the ORT Aniëres Elite Academy in Israel as one of 30 students from abroad. In September, he will attend high school in Nahalal youth village, beginning with a year of intensive Hebrew instruction combined with a regular curriculum.

Those who eventually become Israeli citizens can defer their military service until completion of their university studies, when they will serve in the IDF as engineering specialists.

HARRIET B. ROTTER

Harriet B. Rotter was the No. 1 rated woman in Leading Lawyers Magazine – featuring top rated lawyers throughout the state, for the Top 10 Women Consumer Category.

Harriet was the only woman included in the Top 10 Family Law Practitioner category and was also rated as one of the Top 10 Women Lawyers in Michigan.

TREGER STRASBERG

On August 21 The Michigan Community Service Commission awarded Treger Strasberg the Volunteer of the Year Award. This award honors an individual who strives to improve the lives of neighbors, friends, community or congregation through volunteerism.

In 2009, Treger co-founded Humble Design, a nonprofit that repurposes gently used home goods and furniture to provide comfortable home interiors for homeless families.

Humble Design has serviced over 800 families in Detroit and has now expanded nationwide. Treger, thank you for all that you do for our community. Mazel Tov on this well deserved award.

JUSTIN WEDES

Lifelong TBE member Justin Wedes recently joined the JCC of Metro Detroit's staff as Director of Marketing. As he winds down his own successful firm (Liberati Group), he's looking forward to bringing his entrepreneurial mindset and unconventional creativity to the JCC, an organization undergoing an exciting rebranding and re-envisioning to better serve the metro Detroit area!

Justin brings to the job ten years of experience as a freelance digital marketing professional and more recently the founder and CEO of The Liberati Group, a firm he began and led based in downtown Detroit.

BETY/JBETY KICKOFF

Our JBETY and BETY groups got together in Benton's Place on September 17 for games, giveaways, and a great time! Teens from grades 6-12 got to see the new and improved Benton's Place, featuring new games, and an original wall mural by artist, Leo Willer. Kids competed against one another in basketball, billiards, air hockey, and more!

This year, we are looking forward to even more great opportunities for our teens to come together, including monthly soup kitchen trips, bowling, the Detroit dart club, events with other synagogues, our annual Lawson trip in January, and much more!

BETH EL TEMPLE YOUTH BETY For teens in grades 9-12

TBE Youth (BETY)

BETY is about bringing teens together to build a stronger sense of community while growing in our Jewish values. BETY events are run by teens, for teens. Events range from social nights out to community service activities to opportunities for Jewish learning and everything in between. Our teens gain a strong sense of Jewish values and pride in their Judaism. BETY also teaches our teens valuable leadership and teamwork skills, and allows them to have fun with their friends at Temple!

BETH EL TEMPLE YOUTH JBETY For our 6th-8th graders

JBETY serves to keep teens involved during and after their Bar/Bat Mitzvah year while also providing them with an easy transition to the high school group. JBETY runs very much like BETY, with events ranging from Havdalah services to social nights. Some of our past JBETY events included trips to the Fowling Warehouse in Detroit and the Detroit Dart Club at the Russell Industrial Center.

BAT MITZVAH OF JANE LEE WINEMAN

Jane is an 8th grader at Derby Middle School where she is a member of the National Junior Honors Society and Derby tennis team. Jane also plays travel soccer for The Birmingham United Soccer Club. Jane loves summer camp, music and traveling. For her Mitzvah Project, Jane will participate in the Jewish Family Service Adopt a Family program during the holidays and Jane will take the leadership role in organizing the shopping and lists. Jane is the daughter of Heidi & Henry Wineman III, the sister of Jack, the granddaughter of Trudi & Henry Wineman II, and Lois & Paul Katzman.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21

BAR MITZVAH OF ELI GOLDIN FOLTYN

Eli Goldin Foltyn, son of Elyse & David Foltyn, is a 7th grader at Cranbrook Schools where he plays the trombone. For his Mitzvah Project, Eli served food to the homeless and assisted with urban farming. Eli is the twin brother of Evan and the brother of Abby, Lily, Lindsay, Mara, and Molly. Evan is named after his great uncle Ephraim, who died during the Holocaust.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21

BAR MITZVAH OF EVAN GOLDIN FOLTYN

Evan Goldin Foltyn, son of Elyse & David Foltyn, is a 7th grader at Cranbrook Schools where he plays the stand up bass and bass guitar. He also plays bass for the Detroit Metropolitan Youth Symphony. Evan is the twin brother of Eli and the brother of Abby, Lily, Lindsay, Mara and Molly. Eli is named after his grandmother, Ella Foltyn, who survived the Holocaust. For his Mitzvah Project, Evan served food to the homeless and assisted with urban farming.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28

BAR MITZVAH OF MORI BEN-TZION MILLER

Mori is a proud Derby Dragon. As a 7th grader he's enjoying playing trombone in the school band, and is looking forward to playing basketball and running track. He's an avid reader of adventure books and keeps busy with sports, especially soccer. Mori is having a great experience volunteering for Friendship Circle and making new friends through the Miracle League, where he helps mentally and physically disabled children experience the joys of baseball on a specially-designed field. Mori is the son of Rachel Ann and Rabbi Mark Miller, the brother of Abraham, and the grandson of Marc and Frankee Victor, Mark and Jan Barmann, Joel and Susan (Z'l) Miller.

The perfect ending to any Shabbat service ... enjoying food with one another.

Please consider supporting this festive gathering with a donation to the Oneg/Kiddush Fund.
To sponsor an Oneg or Kiddush, contact Marianne
Myers at 248.851.1100 or mmyers@tbeonline.org.

Family Sukkot PROGRAM

Come Wander in the Desert with the Israelites!

We'll climb Mt. Sinai, gather Manna in the wilderness, and dig in the desert for riches.
You never know what you might find!!

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 8
NOON – 1:30 PM LUNCH PROVIDED

PRECEDED BY  Kid-ish Club @ 11:00 AM

For more info, contact Debbie at dmorosohk@tbeonline.org or 248.851.1100.

On Sukkot we remember that our ancestors wandered in the Sinai desert for 40 years, living in temporary shelters as they went.
Join us as we follow in their footsteps.
